FOREWORD

We are as the wind, moving from the past, through the present, and into the future. We are a part of the wind of change which forever renews our land.

It has been almost three years since we entered Brighton High School; and in this short span of time, our realization of the omnipresence of confusion and hostility has not disillusioned us. In fact, it has strengthened our hope and constant courage to accept the tasks laid before us as those who have gone before us have accepted their burdens. Our ideals have become stabilized and we now realize that we are not only a part of the graduating class, but that we are a part of this generation—a part of this country.

What they did yesterday, what we do today, will set for those of tomorrow the path by which they will lead the world.

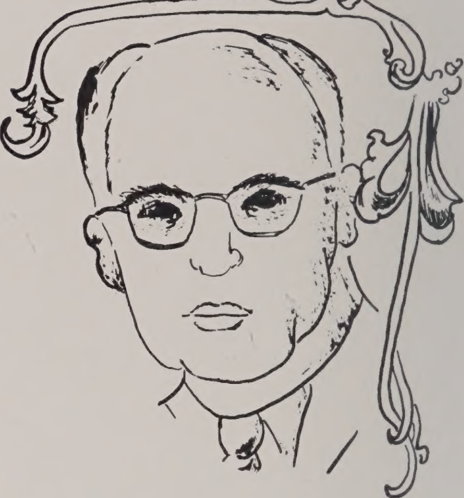
Dedication to Mr. Kelleher



Mr. Walter J. Kelleher received his collegiate education at Boston College. He came to Brighton High School in 1940 from Dorchester High School for Boys. From the date of his arrival until his retirement in 1964, Mr. Kelleher taught a full program of Latin covering Latin I through Latin IV.

In addition to his regular teaching duties, Mr. Kelleher supervised the production of our yearbook The Gothic for seven years. This assignment was a labor of love which he undertook with a serious purpose beyond the call of expectation. We are told that he spent many Saturday mornings at the photographer's studios following up the pictorial functions connected with The Gothic. As a result, very few seniors failed to have their pictures in on time.

Mr. Kelleher had a generous heart which prompted him to share his worldly goods with the pupils he taught. As a result, each year he would donate hundreds of dollars for scholarship purposes to be awarded to those pupils of his Latin classes who were planning to attend college.

Mr. Kelleher retired in June, 1964. We hope that he will live many years to enjoy his retirement. In retrospect he realizes that his years of teaching were spent among persons who had great respect and admiration for him.

His many beneficiaries will look back on the happy years they spent with a generous man and a dedicated teacher.

Mr. M. Henry McInerney
Headmaster

The Great Society

The members of the Class of 1965, in their few years at Brighton High School, have witnessed great changes in the history of our nation. In November of 1963 an assassin's bullet ended the career of our personable and capable native son of Massachusetts, President John F. Kennedy. His death halted the development of his personal plans for the NEW FRONTIER OF SOCIETY in the United States. In January of 1965, Lyndon B. Johnson on his inauguration as President of the United States launched his program for THE GREAT SOCIETY.

During the next four years President Johnson's plans for THE GREAT SOCIETY will proceed with the help of Congress. Our graduates will find themselves in the midst of the progress of enactments passed to carry out the details of legislation. Persons young and old will be offered opportunities hitherto non-existent. The bills on Anti-Poverty, Medicare, and Education will affect all elements of the population.

Especially of concern to young high school graduates will be the program of federal aid to education. Individuals as well as institutions will profit by the provisions of this bill. Thus we shall find young graduates who are interested in furthering their education facing a choice of utilizing the resources offered to them.

In the weeks ahead, members of Congress will debate the issues involved in establishing the programs which the President has recommended. At this point, it appears that he will succeed in gaining approval for most of his proposals. In fact, before your Yearbook will be in your hands, some of his plans for THE GREAT SOCIETY will have been approved by Congress.

The point to be emphasized is that our graduates should familiarize themselves with the details of the programs and, wherever possible, take advantage of them. Each person must provide for himself, but wherever our government offers benefits to us, our graduates should at least know the provisions of the enactments.

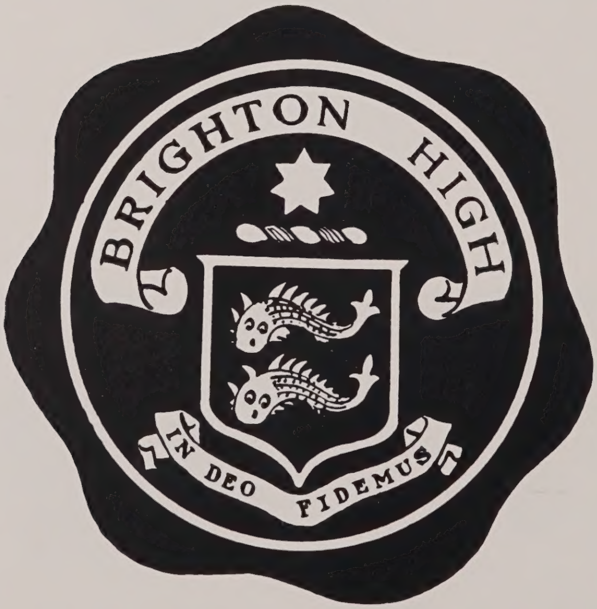
Prominently placed in our auditorium and on our book covers is an emblem, the seal of Brighton High School. Many of us have wondered about the meaning of the figures found therein.

From our history we find that the seal "is a reminder of the early days of the independent township west of Boston and the town in England from which it was named. Prior to its annexation to Boston in 1874, our community had adopted as its seal one similar to that of the English town of Brighton, England, or Brighthelmstone, as it was called in its early days. This town situated in Sussex on the English Channel was, and still is, one of the leading seaside resorts of Great Britain. Its greatest development occurred in the second half of the eighteenth century during the reign of George IV.

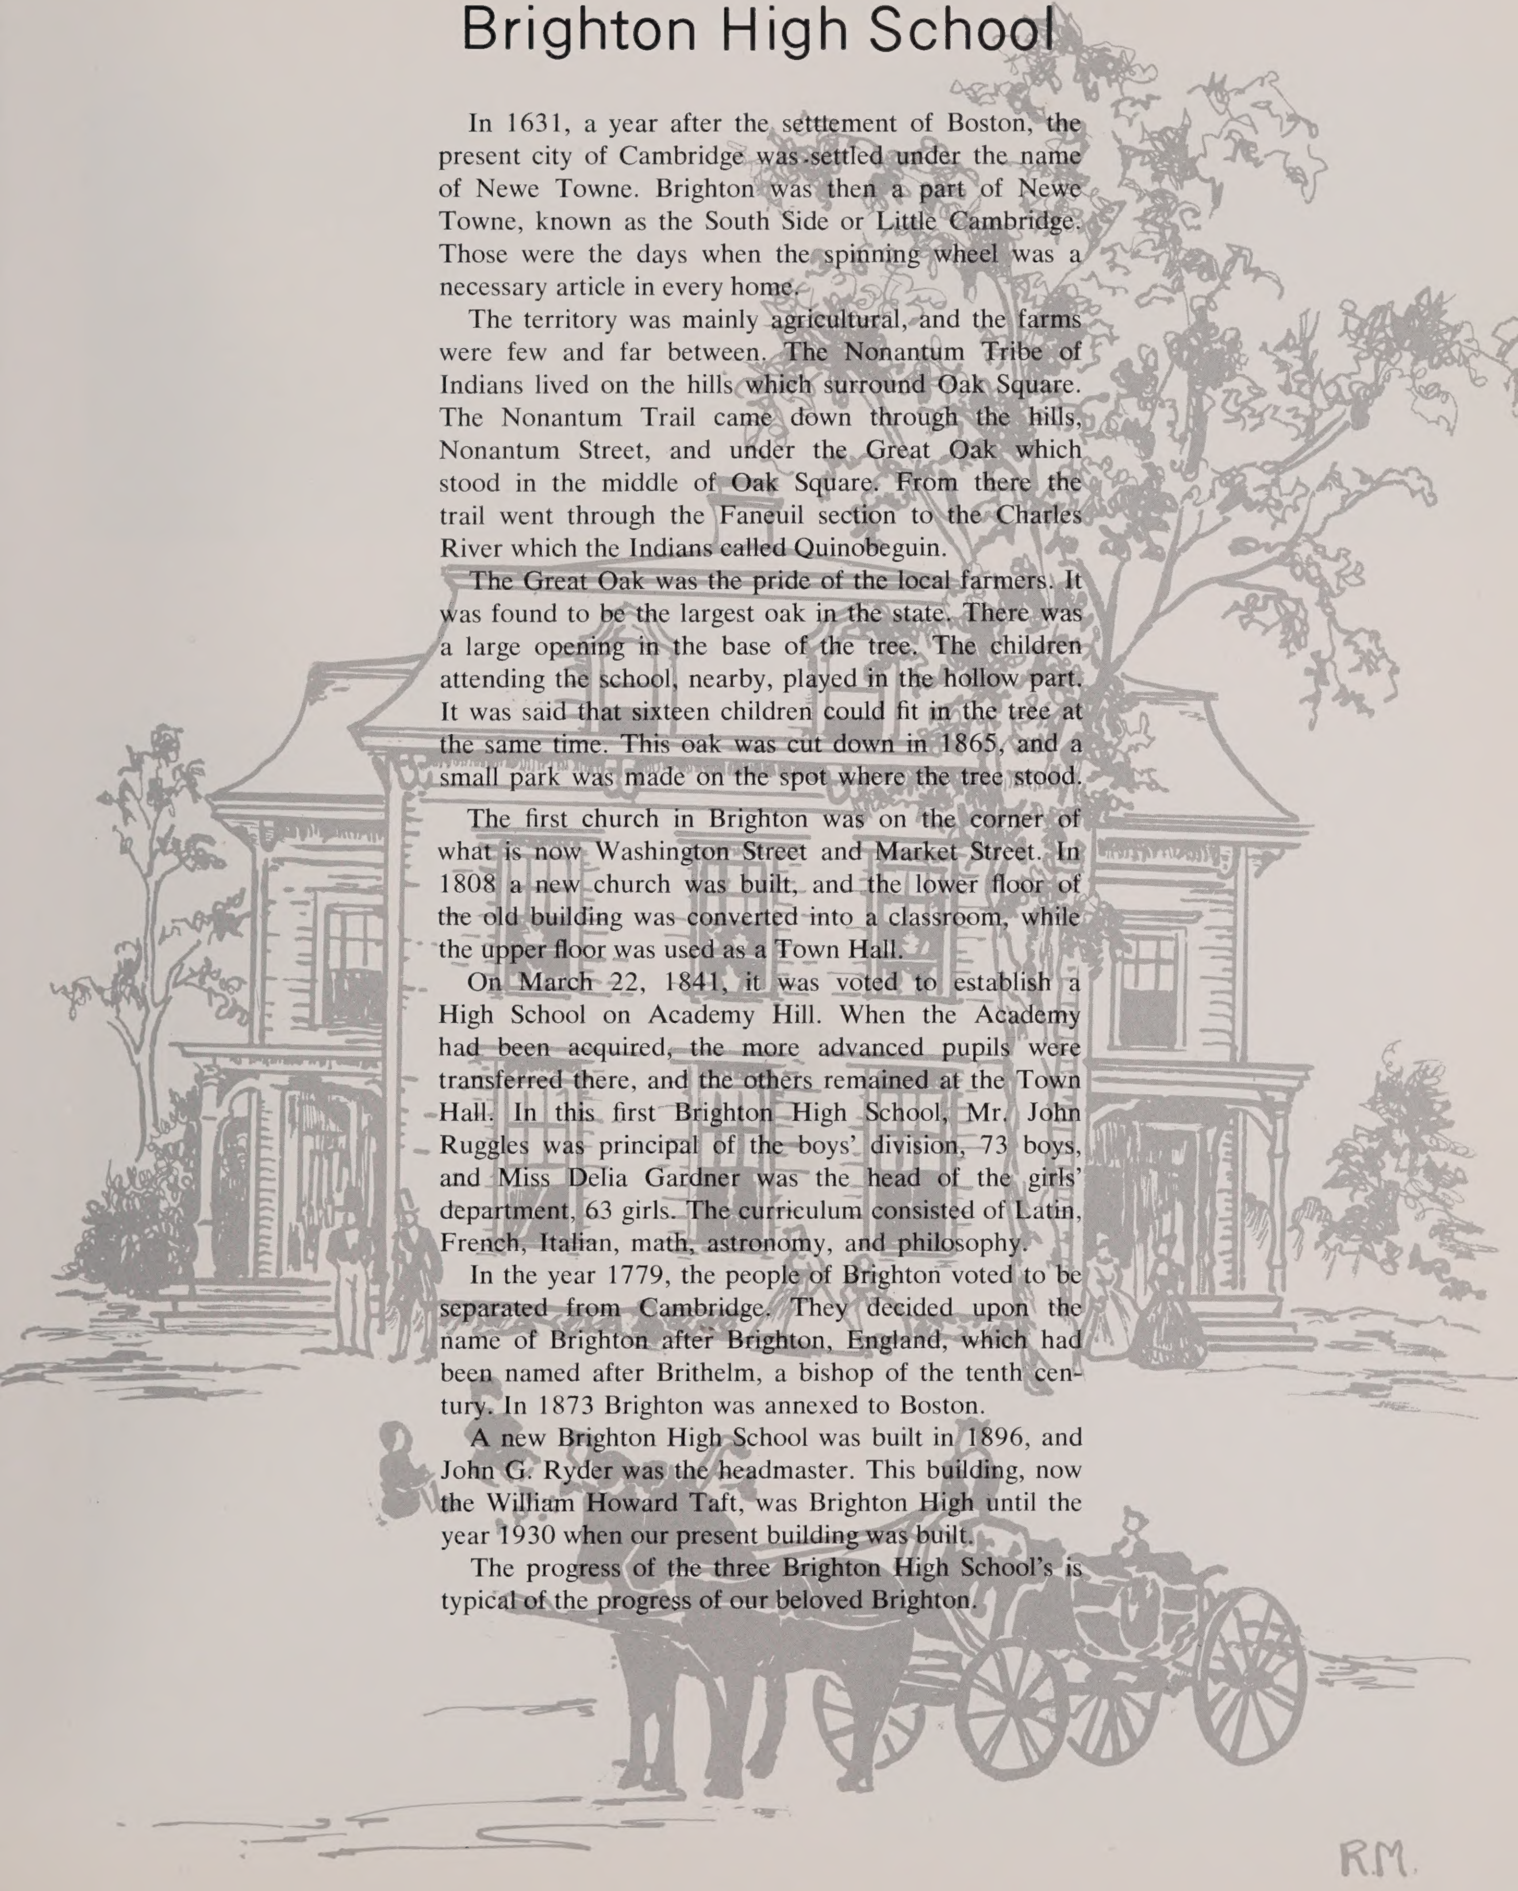
"Boats sailing the Atlantic were followed in large numbers into the Channel and to the shores of Brighton by dolphins, this seven-foot fish abundant in some parts of the Atlantic but less numerous on the American coast. As descriptive of the town two dolphins were depicted on its seal; and a star of light, and the inscription, "In Deo Fidemus," were chosen by its people, as by those in many other God-fearing communities, to bear witness to their trust in their Supreme Being."

"Upon its annexation to Boston, the Massachusetts township officially relinquished its own seal. Later the High School adopted as its emblem the original seal of the town, and added the now familiar words, 'Brighton High.' "

School Seal



History of Brighton High School



In 1631, a year after the settlement of Boston, the present city of Cambridge was settled under the name of Newe Towne. Brighton was then a part of Newe Towne, known as the South Side or Little Cambridge. Those were the days when the spinning wheel was a necessary article in every home.

The territory was mainly agricultural, and the farms were few and far between. The Nonantum Tribe of Indians lived on the hills which surround Oak Square. The Nonantum Trail came down through the hills, Nonantum Street, and under the Great Oak which stood in the middle of Oak Square. From there the trail went through the Faneuil section to the Charles River which the Indians called Quinobeguin.

The Great Oak was the pride of the local farmers. It was found to be the largest oak in the state. There was a large opening in the base of the tree. The children attending the school, nearby, played in the hollow part. It was said that sixteen children could fit in the tree at the same time. This oak was cut down in 1865, and a small park was made on the spot where the tree stood.

The first church in Brighton was on the corner of what is now Washington Street and Market Street. In 1808 a new church was built, and the lower floor of the old building was converted into a classroom, while the upper floor was used as a Town Hall.

On March 22, 1841, it was voted to establish a High School on Academy Hill. When the Academy had been acquired, the more advanced pupils were transferred there, and the others remained at the Town Hall. In this first Brighton High School, Mr. John Ruggles was principal of the boys' division, 73 boys, and Miss Delia Gardner was the head of the girls' department, 63 girls. The curriculum consisted of Latin, French, Italian, math, astronomy, and philosophy.

In the year 1779, the people of Brighton voted to be separated from Cambridge. They decided upon the name of Brighton after Brighton, England, which had been named after Brithelm, a bishop of the tenth century. In 1873 Brighton was annexed to Boston.

A new Brighton High School was built in 1896, and John G. Ryder was the headmaster. This building, now the William Howard Taft, was Brighton High until the year 1930 when our present building was built.

The progress of the three Brighton High School's is typical of the progress of our beloved Brighton.

FACULTY

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT—Row One: Barbara Bates, Anita Markunas, Marion Gilman, Margery Marshall, Helen O'Leary. Row Two: Joseph Casey, Joseph Braga, Paul McGuire, Paul LoConte.

English Department

For the college, business, and cooperative students the English Department sponsors a three years' study of technical English that includes spelling, vocabulary, grammar, English usage, rhetoric, and composition. In addition the English course contains a study of English and American literature: poetry, drama, essay, novel, and short story. From their study of these subjects, students will increase their abilities to speak well, read well, write well, and, most important, to think well.

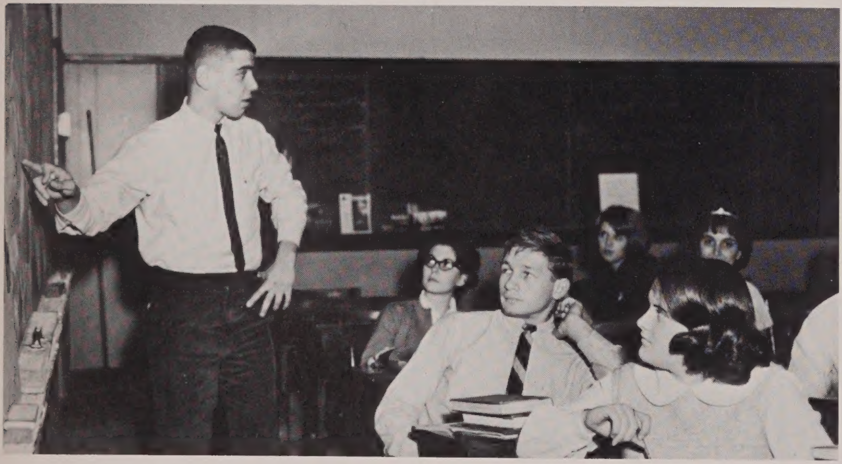
Mathematics Department

MATH DEPARTMENT—Paul A. LoConte, Elizabeth V. Tobin, J. Edward Keefe, Robert McCarthy.



Doesn't that make it clear

Come on, now—How long is the mile run?

This year brought several changes in the faculty of the Math Department. Mr. William V. Durante, our highly regarded Department Head, was awarded a National Science foundation fellowship for a year's study at the Boston College Graduate School and is on a leave-of-absence. Mr. Charles Sharkey was promoted to Math Department Head at English High School. Mr. Edward Keefe and Mr. Robert M. Carthy are newly appointed Math teachers.

A Math Club, THE NUMERICALS, was organized this year. Membership has proved to be a stimulating and enjoyable experience.

Math V, a course in college mathematics not scheduled at all high schools, was continued this year. The subject matter of the course included Theory of Equations, Probability, as well as introductions to analytic geometry and calculus.

A visitor from Boston College expressed amazement at the contents of the course, admiration for the Boston School System which sponsored it, and of course appreciation of the student's ability to participate.

Science Department

The school year 1964-1965 brought several changes in the faculty of the History Department. Mr. Carty, our popular hockey coach, came from the W. H. Taft, and Mr. Braga and Mr. Doherty joined the Boston system for the first time. Miss Sandra Lehto, a student teacher from B. C., was an enthusiastic member of the department from Sept.-Dec., when she had to return to the Heights to complete her senior year.

A wide range of subjects offered by the Department includes World History and Commercial Geography in Grade X; U. S. History—a nonelective in Grade XI; and a choice of American Government, Problems of Democracy, and Modern European History in Grade XII.

Row One: Miss Madeleine Maguire, Miss Elisabeth Pelletier. Row Two: Mr. Thomas Sennott, Mr. Thomas Gosnell.

At Brighton High School, two modern and one classical language is taught.

The two modern languages are French and Spanish. Five years of French and three years of Spanish are offered; thus, a pupil who has begun French in junior high school may continue the study for three years.

The classical language is Latin. We have classes here in four years of this subject.

The head of the Language Department, Miss Elizabeth Pelletier is a graduate of Radcliffe College. Her master's degree is from Boston University. She spent a year at Sorbonne, a part of the University of Paris, and has also studied French at Lavol University in Quebec and has travelled throughout France.

A recent graduate of Boston University, Miss Shirley Mann, was appointed this year as a teacher of French. She plans to further her studies at Boston University.

Spanish is taught by Miss Madeleine Maguire. She received her A.B. and A.M. from Boston Teachers' College. She has travelled extensively in Spain, South America and the Spanish speaking islands of the Caribean.

For 1964-65 Mr. Thomas Sennott, who received his degree from Boston College, is teaching French and Spanish at B.H.S.

Mr. Thomas Gosnell, a graduate of Boston College, who has also studied at Rutgers is teaching all the Latin classes this year.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT—Row One: Deborah Shulman, Mary Campbell, John P. Craven, Alice V. Donahue, Catherine F. Boyle. Row Two: Florence Des Autel, Stephen Pacifico, John McCormick, John Barry, Thomas H. Sennott, Helen S. Rowell.

All together now 1, 2, 3.

Gentlemen: I have received your letter . . .

The Business Department at Brighton High continues its quest to innovate, advance, and improve the learning situation of all its pupils.

The newest audio-visual additions to the Department this year have been the EDL Speed Builders—these machines are used for increasing skills of typing, shorthand, math, filing and ten-key machines. The beginning use of these Speed Builders give every indication of their greater utilization in the years to come.

A course in Automation was started this year. This dynamic field is opening many new horizons for the Office Practice graduate. The present success by these pupils in this course at Brighton High, leads to greater facility in the business world.

John R. O'Brien, Assistant Head Master

Mr. O'Brien assumed the duties of the recently established position of Assistant Head Master in September, 1964. A graduate of Boston College and Boston College Graduate School, he taught successively at the Lewis School, Columbia University, and the Girls' Latin School. He became Head of the Mathematics Department at The English High School in 1956 and held that post until December, 1963, when he was transferred again to the Girls' Latin School. He has been a special lecturer in Engineering Mathematics and Calculus at Northeastern University since 1946. A Commander in the Naval Reserve, he has taught both Navigation and Operations in the Officer Candidate Schools at Newport, R.I. and at Treasure Island, California.

"He slowly won his way to eminence and fame by doing the work that lay next to him—doing it with all his growing might—doing it as well as he could, and learning by his failure, when failure was encountered, how to do it better."

Horace Greeley wrote this about Abraham Lincoln.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

As graduation day approaches and we near the end of our high school careers, let us not forget that our education is a continuing process that will be with us as long as we live. Immediately, some of us are going on to higher education or further training in industry and business.

To those who have helped us to attain the goal at which we have now arrived, we owe a deep debt of gratitude. We thank Mr. McInerney for the wisdom of his valuable advice. Our teachers have been most generous and considerate, for which we are thankful. Our good parents have made many sacrifices to put us through school. We can never forget their devotion.

It is for us to repay these kind people. We may pause to consider that our debts might very well be discharged if each of us tries to make this world a better place in which to live. One might ask how this can be done. Individually, we can improve ourselves physically and mentally to the end that we be strong for the trials and temptations that are bound to face us. We should strengthen ourselves morally so that we may set a good example for all with whom we come in contact. We should fill our hearts with regard for all our fellowmen and do whatever we can to lighten their burdens.

Let us so improve ourselves that we, in the process, uplift the world that we inhabit. In this way we can partially discharge the debt that we owe to all those who have helped us. We can make our parents proud that we are reflecting the teaching and the love that they have given to us. And we can live with our hearts and minds uplifted knowing that we are trying to better the lives of all.

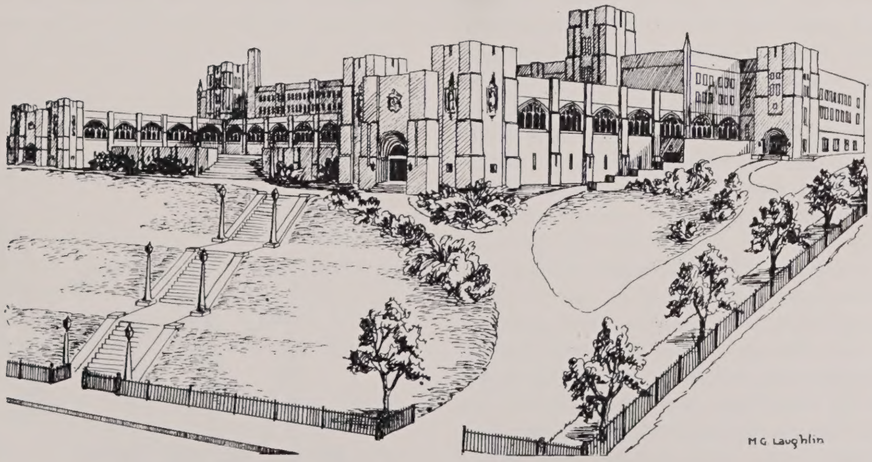
The Class of '65 takes a smug look backward.

DO YOU REMEMBER ?

. . . the seniors looking down on the immature sophomores
. . . going to two lunches (in one day)
. . . the football rally assembly
. . . "the man with the xylophone who entertained us"
. . . and Mr. McInerney canceled all homework for the day
. . . "where is your pass! . . . where are you going?"
. . . the first white card
. . . the Hootenanny Assembly led by the choir from Cleveland, Ohio
. . . living vicariously—through books
. . . Mr. Stead's oration on National Negro Week
. . . Robert Q. Crane, our state treasurer '65, who spoke to us in '64
. . . the great emotion felt when President Kennedy was assassinated
. . . "I pledge allegiance . . ."
. . . the newly painted lunchroom floor, a delicate gray to be more conducive to digestion
. . . whither the gym?
. . . teasing
. . . the groan when the bells rang . . . 1, 2, 3, . . . Fire! Air Raid!
. . . the Glee Club solos by Donna Gaines, Jackie Robinson, Marilyn Sordillo, Aleta Downes, Susan Hughes
. . . when the democrats of B. H. S. elected Johnson and Robinson
. . . when Uncle Sam tried to sell the Armed Forces



Prophecy

Despina Kondos, Carol McShane, Barbara Britton

It's time for us to settle back and dream of the future. What will happen? Where will we be? Just imagine! Close your eyes—and dream, dream, on! It's 1995! Celebrities are gathering from all over the world in the "New Boston." The occasion—the World's Fair. Newspapers, everywhere, are reporting the happenings of the world's greatest city. The beautiful sky is set off by stars and tremendous skyscrapers. The Prudential Building is now but a mere office building. Other buildings surpass it in height by far! Far up into the sky they grow.

Super skyways are passing through hotels, motels, and supermarkets—the sight is something to behold!

Through our telescope we see a small house. Why, it's mine. Let's take a peek into the living room and see what's happening.

With anticipation, I tear open a letter which I hope will be the acceptance of the invitation which I had sent to Barbara Palkey, the famous millionaire. Would she come to the Fair also? Yes!

That afternoon at my home, I announce the wonderful news to the former Kathleen Farrell, Regina Davis, Mary Ann Haskins, and Barbara Cobe, who are now all happily married. They are as thrilled as I am at the prospect of seeing our successful friend.

Several days later my neighbor, the former Mary Ann Kiley and I drive to Logan Spaceport. On the way we stop at Frank Diorio's Garage, there James Roberts fills our tank with his famous super-duper special chemical formula! James Morse, in his usual suave manner, is managing the successful garage.

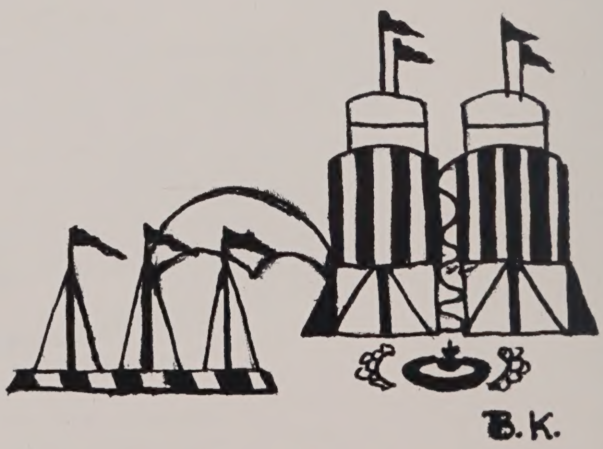
As soon as we are on the super-highway again, I decide to turn on my telephonevision. Robert Nagle gives us the latest sports news. Dominic Antonelli, the coach of those unbeaten All Stars, has led his team through another successful season.

We finally reach the spaceport, but encircle the area before finding a parking space for our petite spacemobile. At last, we find it! As we enter the United Spacelines Terminal, we meet Eugene Silverio and Albert Calvo, who are electronic technicians with United Spacelines. The boys inform us that Joseph Chopchitz and Ed McLaughlin, have developed a special fuel to carry future astronauts beyond the now inhabited Mars.

It's three o'clock and the space plane arrives on the ramp. Albert DiPalma is piloting the space craft into Boston. Good old dependable Albie! As the door glides open, we see Elizabeth MacPherson and Diane Haley, two smiling stewardesses, assisting the passengers off the ramp. The girls are still as pretty as ever!

First to descend the ramp is Robert Finkelstein, the famous Senator from Massachusetts. Accompanying him is that prominent, man-about-town Robert Norton.

As we enter the luggage room, we meet our old acquaintances Nancy Caldon and Nanci MacDonald. We converse with Nanci MacDonald, while Miss Caldon checks the luggage. they are flying to their Swiss châlet in the Alps to paint and to philosophize in silence and solitude. Who is accompanying them? Two tall, handsome strangers, both named Bob! My goodness—our old classmates Donna Levy and JoAnne Steele! Joanne, as happy as ever, informs us that she is now a member of the Peace Corps and is on her way to distant lands. Donna is once again making her semi-annual trip to Europe. Of course, her guitar is safely packed and ready to go!



We finally decide to go to the well-known Alan Sider's Restaurant. Linda Russell, a very attractive hostess meets us as we enter. While eating, we reminisce about our old "Alma Mater." Our meal is pleasant and we graciously thank Alan. Once again we're off!

We board my space car and start for home. It's almost seven o'clock. We must be getting home in order to watch the Presidential debates between candidates Paul Izzo and Elsabeth Bell. How we admire Elsabeth's courage! After we listen to the exciting speeches, the doorbell rings. It is Ralph Clatterbuck and Eileen Duby who have just returned from Washington D.C., where Eileen's boss, Kenneth Bender, has just completed a successful court case. If we ever need a lawyer, Kenneth, we'll certainly call on you! With Eileen in charge of legal matters and Ralph acting as court stenographer, matters will surely be fine. They tell us that Laura Goldstein, legal secretary, is still on the job with her boss Perry Mason.

Early the next morning we are on our way—World's Fair—here we come! Upon entering the fair grounds, we see John Doyle giving a ticket to Danice Johnson for speeding on her little pink motor scooter. Shame on you, Danice!

Where shall we start? The first step is to buy a guidebook.

Our first stop is the Better Living Center, where we find cheerful and plump Carol Kelly, examining the appliances to complete her new home. In the Hall of Education, we see Anne Lucas, Eleanor Russo and Frank Callahan who are attentively listening to a lecture on the School of Tomorrow. Watch out! We're being invaded—Why, it's Christine Leamy with a group of her pupils, touring the pavilion. My, isn't she brave!

As we walk around we can hear a great applause. Pushing through the crowd, we see Diane Rourke and Carol Price, the Prima Ballerinas, performing their famous ballet. Such grace and style!

While wandering about, we sight James Felton and Lawrence Reed who are avoiding cameras and newspapermen. Ah, to be millionaires! The prominent scientists, Cesidio Pellegrini and Jacky Steenkamp are demonstrating new uses of imported Italian tools for space machines.

In the Garden of Meditation, we notice Carol McShane, who is deep in thought. We decide not to disturb the now famous Miss McShane. Glancing over her shoulder, we see that she is writing her conclusions after analyzing the teachers of Brighton High. Good Luck, Carol! We hear that Marie Castellanos is also writing an involved history in her home in Europe.

It's getting late so we decide to return to my push button home. While leaving the Fair Grounds, we meet Nancy Vrock, who received her Ph.D. five years ago. We wish her luck and happiness and are on our merry way.

"How about a drive up to see the Castle?" someone suggests.

"What a splendid idea!"

Driving towards the hill we recognize one of the teachers leaving the school.—It is that whiz in bookkeeping—Ira Carle, who enjoys teaching bookkeeping at Brighton High School. He also informs us that William Landenberger is Head of the Business Department of the Boston Public Schools. That a boy, Bill!

We say good-bye and wish him success and happiness. As we ride by, we see Judy Kelleher, crossing the street. Judy is now employed at Saint Elizabeth's Hospital. Gwendolyn Coffie and Shirley Lyons are her partners. We decide to pay the nurses a visit. Upon entering, we see Gail Hutchins at the desk. She informs us that Donna Baskin is now a successful pediatrician. Her success is attributed to her private secretary, Sharon Guerrier. Norman O'Loughlin and Ruth Delaney were the hospital's bookkeepers. The hospital may never be the same!

We awake bright and early the next morning. During our first stop, "The Hotel Beneath the Sea," we see that extraordinary, super-duper Scuba diver, Gail Dennison, who describes her recent trip to Viet Nam. Were you successful in your endeavor, Gail? Next on the program is the demonstration of the new electronic machines. Terrance Melanson and Robert Beals are working with I.B.M. machines. Their assistant, the efficient Sandra Bidderman, is placing data into these machines.

The next showing is the Conroy's hair techniques. Yes, it's hairstylists Kathleen Conroy and Denise Braudis revealing the mad, mad, mad coiffures of the future.

Going toward the Medical Center, we see Marjorie Green, Rosalyn Vogel and Harriett Leavitt who are touring the area. Lorraine Gardner, "Miss Medical Secretary of the Year," is conducting the tour.

To make our trip easier, we decide to take a ride on the "Aerial Tower." There, sitting in the first seat is John Ballerino, who says "This beats any hot rod ride." Under a ten-gallon cowboy hat, Michael Ford is having a snooze before leaving for his uncle's ranch in Pennsylvania where he has been offered a very important position.

We finally arrive at the Unisphere. There we meet Michele Silver, Boston's top model. Smile pretty, Michele! Her gorgeous outfit was designed by fashion designer, Barbara Kidik. Almedia Crosby, the well-known writer, is interviewing Michele. At the snack bar, Paul Sciarappa greets us with a big smile. There, we also meet Thomas Rautenberg and Lionel Clark, accountants for the Bank of the World. Who is that handsome, executive that just walked by us? Why, it's James Pucillo!

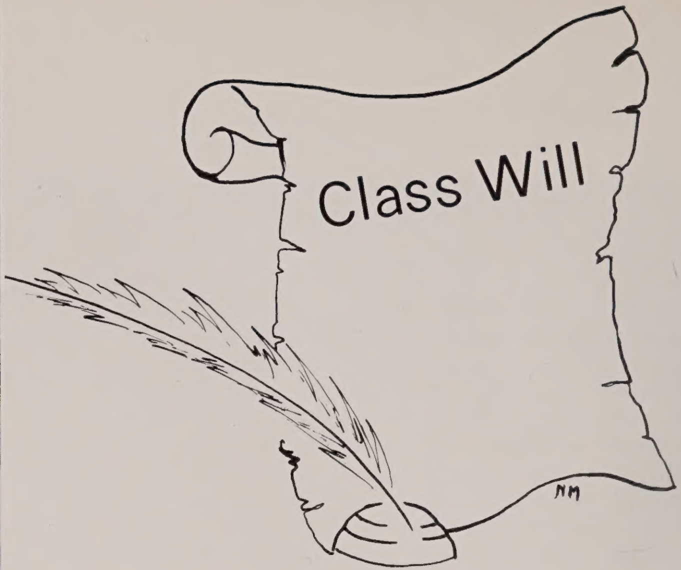
We continue our tour with anticipation. Our guide is very helpful. We decide to see the special showing which demonstrates criminal techniques and crime prevention. The lecturer is Nancy Reid, the prominent Criminologist. We regret it, but we must leave the Fair Grounds in order to return to the spaceport.

When we arrive, safety provisions are being checked by Kenneth Smith, Kenton Jacobs and Edward Craig. These space technicians are making sure that a safe trip will be provided for all the passengers. Meanwhile, fire Officer, Richard Berrio and his firemen are rushing onto the field for an emergency landing. Maria Cabrera is now top engineer for outer space projects. We'll see you on the moon, Maria! As we approach the luggage room, passengers appear, who are taking a supersonic jet to Europe in order to attend an international conference. The group consists of the psychiatrist, Gail Hurley; her private secretary, Arleen Kelley; social worker, Flora Hatcher; and speech therapist, Donna Atwood.

While waiting for the arrival of the spacecraft, I glance through the magazine and notice one of Mary Mahoney's articles on dental hygiene. The interesting and accurate illustrations were sketched by Richard Harrison of New York. On the other side of the airport we notice three lovely secretaries; Nancy Winrotte, Doris Carty, and Evelyn Stiefel. Their three companions are very handsome, indeed!

The super-sonic jet appears, piloted by a familiar face. Who is the mystery plot? Why it's Richard DePalma.

We escort Barbara to her seat and wish her luck. While leaving the spaceport, I look up into the blue, starry sky. Was our trip a mere fantasy? I peer up toward that telescope in the sky and stroll away!



Class Will

Row One: Nancy Caldon, Rose Mazzola. Row Two: Elsabeth Bell, Anne Horowitz.

We, the graduating class of 1965, being of sound mind and clear judgment (?) do hereby state as our last Will and Testament the following:

We leave Mr. McInerney our best wishes.

To Mr. Ambrose, Francis White leaves his wonderful math mind.

To Mr. Barry, Albert Frawley bequeaths all his lunches.

Flora Goldsberry leaves Mr. Casey a mountain climbing guide book with sincere hopes that he makes it to the top.

Paul Donovan and James Redmond leave Coach Carty the Boston Bruins—maybe they can beat Charlestown.

Lillian Edwards leaves Miss Donahue all the gum she chewed during her senior year.

Maureen O'Brien, Elaine Downs, and Martin Strauss leave both Mr. Carey and Miss Tobin an old Goldwater pin.

Della Polcaro leaves Mr. Casey a pair of roller skates to insure faster travel throughout the building.

Linda Sawicki leaves Miss Blagdon a pail of water and a mop for the gym floor.

Alice Knoff and Deena Gorin bequeath to Mr. Donoghue complete silence between five of nine and five past nine.

Mary Freeman leaves Mr. Healy a year's supply of pills for the prevention of grouchy Monday mornings.

Marie Kierstead leaves Mr. Casey her broken locker; Donna Levy, a handless locker; and Robert Berkley, all the locker keys—if this doesn't give him nightmares, nothing will.

William Burns leaves Miss Fitzgerald a lifetime supply of windows opening from the top.

Richard Lucey leaves Mr. Wellings a home made deck of playing cards, designed from his old filing cards.

Dorothy Rideout extends her sincere thanks to Mr. Casey for his gallantry when she lost her pocketbook.

Richard Furber leaves Mr. McNamee thirty absentee notes.

Mary Ellen Jundzil and Joanne Volante bequeath a year's supply of long-lasting carbon paper, and a quick speed of ninety words a minute to Miss Donahue.

Josephine Gallaghen leaves Miss Woods a new thimble for the prevention of pricked fingers.

Linda Fraser leaves Miss Marshall a hundred and one pens.

Charles McVey returns his ten demerits to Mr. Donoghue.

William Herman wills all co-op teachers a community bus which would enable them to come to school together.

Barbara Gricus leaves Mrs. Johnson all her crystals that never crystallized.

Barbara Britton and Sandra Lambert leave Mr. Casey some compositions, short stories, Noma spelling tests, and one sensible paragraph, guaranteed.

Dennis Seely leaves his brother John some friends and memories of Brighton High.

Kay Tocci leaves Miss Marshall all the wonderful memories of E 111 A5 and E IV A3.

Paul Sudanowicz leaves Mr. McKillop all his transmission problems.

Paul Lampros and Lois Craig leave Miss Markunas the ten demerits they never wanted.

Charles Salvi leaves Coach Carty his ripped practice pants —the ones that have Army Surplus stamped on them.

Joseph Russo leaves Mr. Carey his last word, "Yeah!"

Linda Perrier leaves Mrs. Boyle a new plant.

Janet Howie leaves Mr. Craven all the Business Law home-lessons she never passed in.

Sylvia Thompson bequeaths to Mr. Carey a year's supply of new jokes.

Lynda Horowitz bequeaths to Mr. Reddy our vanishing natural resources.

Stephen Shapiro and Charlotte Gray leave Mr. Casey a large key ring to hold all his bent locker keys.

Elaine Pollard leaves Mr. Barry one fast delivery boy.

John Kelly bequeaths to Mr. Craven all his old, torn U.S. News and World Report magazines.

Cheryl Lomax leaves Mr. Keefe her Algebra 11 book.

Stephen Stokes leaves Dr. Moore a good M.H. 6 class.

Susan Chansky and Marsha Douglin leave Miss Nelson a peanut butter and jelly sandwich and a full time secretary.

Charles Alvanos bequeaths all of John Kelly's homeroom reports to Miss Maguire.

Linda Bonica leaves Mr. Donoghue her lay-out envelope.

William Wright leaves Mr. Passaretti his oldest overalls.

Joan Golebiewski leaves Miss Hopkins her cramped fingers.

Linda Persico leaves Mr. Casey an instant Prom kit.

Thomas Wise and Ruth Bowdoin leave Miss Tobin twenty-five cents for missing book covers, and twenty-five homework papers with pretty blue signs.

Herbert Greenfield bequeaths a more powerful magnifying glass to Mr. Introini in order that he may find MORE mistakes.

Rose Mazzola and Paul Izzo bequeath to Mr. Durante and Miss Marshall the enforcement of Article 1, section 8, clause 8, of the U.S. Constitution.

Mildred Finn leaves Mr. Siragusa some swinging music.

Patricia Overton leaves Mr. Donoghue all the second lunch leftover chocolate covers.

Anita Feeney leaves Mr. McInerney her cheerleading uniform.

Susan McVey leaves Mr. Casey the lasting memory of her boyfriend, whose initials are carved on one of his desks.

Claire McDonald leaves Miss Shulman a big hello from the last of the merry group.

Richard Lembo leaves Mr. Messuri his leaky transmission.

Sharon Dudar and Linda Eggert leave Mr. Reddy five hundred pounds of loam, one home-made greenhouse, and two borrowed trays from the lunchroom.

Carol Mazzaschi leaves Mr. Carey a cat?

William Glover and Robert Hall bequeath a 1965 Pontiac engine to Mr. Rantuccio.

Sue Jean Parke leaves Dr. Moore all her old sheet music.

Virginia Kazarian leaves Mr. Carty all the unused football tickets.

Anita Kiarsis leaves Mr. Barry one box of stick matches.

Donna Cohen wills Colonel Sullivan the old orchestra music with hopes that then B.H.S. will buy something new.

Samuel Sage leaves Mr. Manfra his lunch.

Angela Santin leaves next year's Business Law class all of Mr. Craven's not too funny jokes.

Maureen Cavaliere leaves Mr. Carey all the homelessons he never collected.

Joseph LeMar leaves Miss O'Neil a pair of sun glasses.

William LaFarge and Sal Bartolo bequeath a classroom of unbreakable machines to Miss Shulman.

To Mr. Healy, Elizabeth Tempesta bequeaths the day his chemistry classes make hydrogen sulphate.

Patricia White leaves Mr. Craven the fond thoughts he had while counting the money collected from the football ticket sales.

Linda Jacobs and Judith Goldstein leave Miss Maguire five hundred new Spanish words, three hundred new accents, and a surprise test.

Donna Gordon, Marjorie Hart, and Lana Kascavitch leave Mrs. Rowell the Morning Globe, and a shorthand notebook full of mistakes.

Geraldine Rufo leaves to Mr. Barry all the Brighton High grapevines.

Fred Hanright leaves Miss O'Neil a book entitled, "School Sickness."

Virginia Baia bequeaths to Mrs. Boyle a box of colored chalk.

Rosemary Knight bequeaths her 10th grade teachers to her unsuspecting sister.

Denise Raymond leaves Mr. Carey the best Problems of Democracy class he'll ever have.

Thomas Callaghan and Michael Hanlon leave Mr. Ambrose all their failing marks with the hope that he will never have to use them again. (He won't!)

Marie Lancaster leaves Mr. Barry some mutilated bubble gum on the bottom of her typewriter.

William Pacifico bequeaths his 1952 Buick Roadmaster with white skirts and whip antenna to Mr. Bruno.

Joan Anderson leaves Mr. Carey the first original secretary's report for his fifth period "Aggie" class.

Rhoda Farley leaves Mr. Manfra and Mr. Passaretti all their advice (?) and helpful comments (?).

Thomas Hogan leaves Mr. Craven his old desk in Room 217.

Anita Lomasney and Charlotte Parks leave Miss Blagdon their gym uniforms, complete with two pairs of dirty socks.

Robert Andrews leaves Mr. Carty the memory of his greatest football team—that of 1964-1965.

Eugene O'Connor bequeaths a new engine cap to Al.

Johnny Pedro bequeaths the sum of one Bible to Mr. Ciciu.

Jane Moscone leaves Mr. Barry all her PERFECT typing papers that he never collected.

Diane Vincuilla leaves Mr. Casey two thousand combination lockers, and a lifetime supply of cigarettes.

Joseph Falcione leaves Mr. McGuire his pen, because it was his to begin with.

Steven Stetson and Raymond Sleeper leave Mr. McCabe their old sweat socks, sneakers, and uniforms.

Barbara Tatten bequeaths a room full of scratch proof desks to Miss Hopkins.

Sandra Hart leaves Mr. Keefe an open window.

Harold Cohen, Sharon Zitzer, and Theresa Phillips leave Brighton High synchronized clocks and bells, cement to pave the back hill, and two gallons of paint for the auditorium.

To solve our financial problems Stanley Litchman and James McCallum each leave Brighton High a million dollars.

To Brighton High Lana Webb leaves her seal of approval as the best high school in the city of Boston.

To improve our musical standards, Eliot Atlas leaves his lilting sour notes.

Richard Cohen, Michael Morrison, Richard Harris, Michael Richards, Liliana Greco, and Edward Chase leave their used books and admirable personalities.

Anthony L. Cocuzzo bequeaths a large framed picture of himself to remain in the hearts of future Brighton students.

James Kelly leaves Brighton High with a supply of pencils.

Donald Bossio leaves B.H.S. all the shoe leather he lost running for the lunchroom line, and Dennis Bizier leaves his lunchroom seat.

Richard Holland leaves Brighton High just what it needs—a pile of demerit slips.

Marlene Migdal wills to the future pupils a secret place to hide aspirin.

Francis Tocci leaves Brighton High a do-it-yourself wine making kit.

To some lucky senior Despina Kondos leaves all of Miss Shulman's problems.

To commuting students Alma Haddad bequeaths the joys of the M.T.A.

James Sancuk leaves all future sophomore football players his cuts, scars, bruises, and abrasions.

Cheryl Neustader wills all future sophomores luck.

Anita Williams bequeaths her homeroom teachers a clock in order that they may be on time.

Loretta Carson leaves her friends all the troubles and fun she had at Brighton High.

Joanne Walters leaves some lucky physics student one of the empty seats in Mr. Wellings' room.

Thomas Farrel leaves Mr. Vozella memories of Brighton High.

Robert Grenier, Larry Launia and Irving Jones leave Mr. Vozella one copy of decimal equivalents and one copy of the 128ths.

Elsabeth Bell, Nancy Caldon, Lynda Horowitz, and Rose Mazzola, the authors of this opus, leave no stone unturned.

Class Poem

The tree grows in the orchard,
Is nurtured by the rain and sun,
And now it's ablaze with blossoms,
But the fruit is yet to come.

The farmer toils and tills his land,
And plants his seed in early spring;
Today the wheat grows tall and grand,
Awaiting a bountiful harvest.

And so it is with us this hour,
This day of graduation,
Each student a blossom—a single flower,
Our Alma Mater's cultivation.

The boughs in time will bear their fruit,
The wheat into flour refined,
And we shall each attain our pursuit,
Our accomplishments, a gain to mankind.

Oration

Class Day culminates our three glorious years at Brighton High School. We can look back and remember a bit nostalgically perhaps, the good times and hard work we all shared. These years have left a deep and lasting impression on everyone, an impression that we shall carry with us for the rest of our lives.

The faculty of Brighton High, while sheltering us from the many vicissitudes of the outside world, has prepared us for the important and pressing problems that await us.

We can be thankful that we are graduating from a high school in these United States, a United States that has recently come to know more about itself. Under the present administration, the individual is looked upon as an integral part of our society. Legal proceedings have been taken by congressional, state, and city groups, public and private, to alleviate some of the economic, social, and moral stresses.

We indeed are entering into a life of challenge. Internally we face problems of increased crime, vanishing natural resources, and racial strife. Externally, the communists have gained power and strength in Cuba, Laos, and Viet Nam. The United States has striven to assist small nations like those in the ways of democracy. Communist Russia has aided them in the opposite direction.

As citizens of tomorrow, the fate of the human race depends upon us and other young Americans like us. We have come to the realization that, like the Shadow of Death, World War III could eventually swoop down upon mankind and thrust our civilization into oblivion.

The only recourse left is to use our minds not only for our own personal needs but for the preservation of the American way of life. Our predicament appears to be unsurmountable, but with the help of continued education and above all, a firm belief in God, and His Glory, can we hope to overcome what seem to be endless obstacles.

In the future, please God, we shall be able to look back and remember . . . remember what has instilled in us here at Brighton High School. Anew we shall continue with strength and courage to fight for what is right.

The Castle on the Hill forever will remain a part and a source of our inspiration—for this, we are thankful.

Brighton High's football squad began its 1964 season with a 12 to 8 loss to Boston Tech in the Jamboree on September 25. In the opening League game the Knights lost by a score of 12 to 6 to Hyde Park. Brighton's lone score was by Paul Izzo when he grabbed a deflected 26 yard pass by Ed Gannon. In the second game, Charlestown capitalized on Brighton's mistakes to win 22 to 8, with John Neri scoring the touchdown on a six-yard run to cap a 92-yard drive in the final period.

The next three games found Brighton losing to South Boston 26 to 12, (this game found Brighton trailing 18 to 12 when Gannon passed deep in Southie territory in the final period only to have it intercepted and run back on the sidelines for the final Southie tally) Boston Latin 34 to 0 and East Boston 32 to 12. The Knights bounced back in their sixth game to hand Jamaica Plain a 32 to 8 defeat. In the rematch against Hyde Park Brighton repaid the earlier defeat with a 20 to 8 win.

Everything clicked as Brighton continued to win over Dorchester 30 to 0 with Ed Gannon and John Neri supplying the power. Neri tallied three touchdowns and intercepted a pass to set up the fourth as Brighton capitalized on fumbles recovered by Andy Gibbons, Bob Hogan and Steve Barry.

In the final league contest Brighton tipped Roslindale 22 to 6. Neri again shone with two touchdowns with Gannon gaining the other goal. This win left Brighton with a 4 to 5 record.

The future looks bright but the Knights will miss the aid of co-captain Paul Izzo, Bob Andrews, Jim Sancuk and other seniors, Charlie Salvi, Charlie Alvanos, Dennis Sliby, Bruce Ross, and Jim Redmond.

Honors to the team came with Junior John Neri and Sophomore Ed Gannon gaining Honorable mention as members of both the Globe and Traveler All-Scholastic Teams and as first team choices on the District Team of the Boston Conference All Stars.

This season marked a comeback as Brighton's four wins were one more than the combined total number of wins for the 1961, '62, and '63 season put together. A fine beginning for first year coach Tom Carty, and his assistant coach Bob McCarty.

HOCKEY TEAM—Row One: Charlie Alvanos, Jack Carney, Les McIssac, Greg MacLeod, Jack Young, Dave McCartan, Andy Gibbons, Bob Midi, Richard Demas. Row Two: Mr. Carty, Coach; Richard Miguel, Billy Novak, Jim Gianelis, Ross Melanson, Jim Sancuk, Tom Spina, Richard McDonald, Jack Padgett, John Mercer, Jim McAuley, Leo Fitzgerald, Mr. Braga, William Donovan.

Brighton's season began with a 5-2 loss to Southie; Greg MacLeod gaining the two goals, assists by Jack Padgett and Les McIssac. Greg MacLeod and Les McIssac paced Brighton over Jamaica Plain 7-0, MacLeod scoring twice and assisting on all three of McIssac's goals. Dave McCartan finished off the scoring with his pair of goals to give Brighton its first win of the season.

Brighton's first line accounted for all scoring with MacLeod having a hand in all six goals to East Boston's one. MacLeod scored the hat trick (three goals in one game) and line mate McIssac scored two goals. In the next game, three first period goals enabled Hyde Park to trip Brighton 3 to 1, the lone goal scored by Dave McCartan, assist to Jack Young.

Brighton bounced back to snap Charlestown's winning streak 4-4. The Townies had to come from behind three times to avoid their first defeat. Jack Carney led Brighton with two goals with goalie Charlie Alvanos had 22 saves.

In the final game of the first round, Brighton topped Roslindale 5-1. Les McIssac and Greg MacLeod set the tempo for the win as each connected for a pair after Paul Izzo had started things at 6:54 of the opening period.

Brighton held Southie to a 2-2 draw thanks to first period goals from the dependable duo of Greg MacLeod and Les McIssac. The Knights scored three goals in each of the first two periods and glided through the finale to stop J. P. 7-0. Paul Izzo set the tempo with a hat trick while Jack Young connected for a pair and singletons came from Carney and MacLeod. Brighton dropped East Boston with a 5-2 win with MacLeod's two goal-two assist effort. Les McIssac banged in his second goal of the game at 8:06 of the final period and gave Brighton its squeaker over Hyde Park.

Charlestown posted a 2-1 victory over Brighton with the lone goal going to Les McIssac. In the final game of the regular season Brighton nipped Roslindale 2-0 to gain a berth in the State Tournament on singletons by Carney and MacLeod.

Greg MacLeod was selected Player of the Week and was selected as a member of the District All-Stars. Sophomore MacLeod captured the district scoring championship and ranked high among the State's leading scorers.

Brighton opened the State Tournament against Worcester North. John Carney lit the bright lamp to lead Brighton's advance. Carney's 15-footer from the right dissolved a 1-1 standoff at 5:06 of the third period. Earlier, Greg MacLeod had banged in a Carney rebound. Final score: Brighton 2, Worcester North 1.

Brighton's next round in the tourney found them facing the champion of the Met League, Columbus.

BASKETBALL

Like the rest of the sports picture this year, Brighton High's basketball team is on the rebound.

After entering the season riding a 23-game losing streak, and winning just four games in four years, the goop team showed progress in short order.

Just four games into the new season, first year coach Bob McCarthy's squad, hit the winners circle, not once, but three straight times—a Brighton record for the 60's.

"If we play up to our potential, and the boys keep hustling, we could very well have a winning season," said McCarthy, who comes from the winning atmosphere prevalent on the Notre Dame campus.

The improvement is noted in the scores alone. Not only did we win a few, but the second time around we definitely played better basketball.

A new coach, and his new players ran into an old problem. The Nemesis was losing, and this time East Boston won with 84 to 43.

In the season's home opener the defense was much better, but so was the opposition, perennial league leader Jamaica Plain. J.P. took this one 49 to 28.

Another loss to South Boston, this one by a 90 to 60 count.

After 27 consecutive losing efforts, the basketball team edged Hyde Park 60 to 56. One of the pleasant aspects of the victory was that two underclassmen—sophomore Len Cotton and junior Harvey Qualls—sparked the victory. Cotton tallied 19 points while Qualls scored 17.

Coach McCarthy's squad opened fast against Charlestown and led at half-time by 15 points. In the second half, increased their lead allowing the bench to be emptied enabling the substitutes to see valuable service. The Bunker Hillers returned home with a 53-37 setback.

The game against Roslindale marked the halfway point in the year's schedule and enabled the Brighton Squad to even its record at the 500 mark. Sparked by Qualls' 23 points and Bob Hogan's 22 rebounds, the team pounded out a 67-64 victory.

With six games remaining to be played, Coach McCarthy has high hopes of bringing a winning season to Brighton for the first time in several years. The coach acknowledges, "This definitely has to be a rebuilding year for the team. There are only two seniors on the squad, Ron Armstead, a starter and Jim Roberts, the number 6 man."

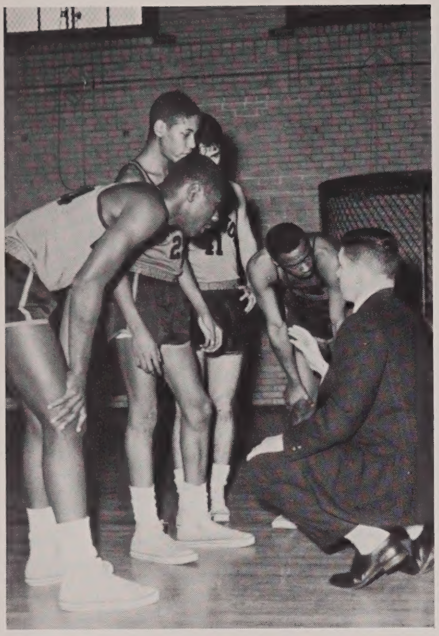
The team centers around sophomore star, Len Cotton, who has averaged 15 points. Of Cotton, the coach predicts a bright future with definite prospects of a successful college career.

Two juniors play the forward position—6′1″ Harvey Qualls, a left-handed jump shooter who plays in spurts and is to be a scoring threat for the remainder of the season. 6′0″ Bob Hogan, a starting end on the football squad, is a most consistent and steady ballplayer who averages 8 points and whose big asset is strong, tough play on the Boards.

Senior, Ron Armstead, is a starting guard. This left-hander specializes in the drive and is a good scorer. The other guard spot is shared between 5′10″ Warren McIntyre and 5′11″ Tom Nagle. McIntyre is a strong defensive player. He has a deadly shot and good rebound ability.

Senior and Captain Jim (Sticks) Roberts at 6′2″ is adequate relief for the other big men.

Juniors Jim Bradford and Bill Marshall and sophomore Bill Brown provide bench strength.



Get out there—and win!

Two for Qualls.

TRACK

TRACK TEAM—Row One: William McKlain, Steven Stetson, Robert Miller, Robert Bell, David Wright, Larry Mazzola, Gerald Celli, Dennis Best, Leonard Robbins, William Buroughs, Sal Bartoto, Manager. Row Two: Dennis Sliby, Jacky Steenkamp, Richard Paolini, James Morse, Jim Murray, Captain; Lafayette Robinson, Co-captain; Joseph Clements, William Nelson, Fred Hanright, Thomas Hammond, Ira Carle. Row Three: Michael Kreopolides, James Pucillo, John Duffy, Gustair Silvestri, William Conway, Paul Markle, Ben Howard, Captain (shot put), Robert Johnson, Ozzie Horsley, Willie Smith, David Hale, Jerry Ingram, Henry Jones, Leon Saunders, Coach McCabe. Row Four: George Pucci, James Reilly, Bob Hogan, Mike Ford, Charles Salvi, Larry Trainor, Ronald Lee, Bruce Wall, Captain; Otis Benjamin Cash III, Captain (relay team); Cotton Mero, Roger Squeezie Moore, Warren Johnson, Chris Scott.

Jimmy Murray, our star trackman, the fleet-footed 300-yard run specialist, placed in B.A.A. and State meets the past three years. He and Lafayette Robinson, who is the senior class President, are co-captains of an 80 man squad, the largest in the district league.

In the hurdles, Tom Hammond, Dennis Sliby, and Jim Pucillo have been outstanding. Junior Willie Smith and sophomore Dave Hale also have done well in the 300 yard. A pleasant surprise in the two mile is Junior Billy Mclean, who went undefeated in the regular season meet. Football star Larry Trainer played a valuable role in the one-mile.

The squad, as in the past, is a closely knit group under Bob McCabe, veteran of all-sports coaching at Brighton.

Other outstanding track and field men were Ron Lee in the mile, Ben Howard in the Shot-put, Paul Market in the High jump, Henry Jones in the Broad jump.

The strength of the team has been the dash: Ralph Bowen, Clayton Sparks, Henry Jones, Ken Jacobs and Bob Andrews.

There are many future stars especially sophomores: Larry Mazzola, Gerald Ingram and Mike Kreopolides.

Willie Smith on to easy victory.

Before you accept that first job . . .

Look over your employer as carefully as he does you

What's the Company like anyway? Would I be proud to work there? Reputation for square dealing with employees? Pleasant surroundings?

Will I be working with others my own age? Are they friendly? Do they socialize after hours?

Will the boss be reasonable? Appreciate good, hard work, but won't explode if I make a mistake?

Will I make a decent week's pay? Have a chance for raises, advancement, more responsibility? How about fringe benefits?

Is the work challenging? I had what it takes to get through high school. Will they give me a chance to use my brains?
